

ICELAND PHOTO WORKSHOP

July 27th to August 8th, 2012

©Greg Gorman
©Tim Vollmer

Amazing
locations

Beautiful models

World class instructors

Spend 12 days in Iceland with Greg Gorman, Andrew Rodney & Tim Vollmer

Imagine spending 12 rewarding days shooting two gorgeous models in one of the most beautiful locations in the world. Imagine having world renowned photographer and teacher Greg Gorman and digital imaging expert and author Andrew Rodney providing a workshop to no more than 12 students. Photographer, tour leader, and Iceland local Tim Vollmer completes the talent as the third instructor. This provides an opportunity to work with Greg, Andrew and Tim in an intimate yet intensive small group workshop.

Master your photographic techniques and technical proficiency at this once in a lifetime photographic and digital workshop. We'll shoot in amazing and varied locations each day. Every student will have the opportunity to photograph dynamic landscapes, portraits and nudes under the guidance of Greg Gorman. Evenings are devoted to working on images with Lightroom and Photoshop. There will be lighting and camera demo's, lectures on digital workflow, color management, and preparing images for fine art printing.

Workshop fee is $5290 per student and includes meals, lodging in Iceland and transportation to all locations (airfare to Iceland is not included).

Space is limited to 12 students. Students are requested to bring a digital portfolio, a digital camera and a laptop capable of running Adobe Photoshop and Lightroom.

For more information about Greg Gorman, go to: <http://www.gormanworkshops.com/TheWorkshop.html>

For more information about Andrew Rodney, go to: <http://www.digitaldog.net/>

For more information about Tim Vollmer, go to: <http://www.timvollmer.de/about-me#>

For general information and sign up for this workshop, contact Tim Vollmer

tim-vollmer@gmx.de